

JON DAVIES NAMED APWA YOUNG LEADER

Jon Davies of BHC Consultants was recently named 2007 Young Leader by the Washington State Chapter of American Public Works Association (APWA) at their annual Fall Conference in Spokane.

The award was established to recognize and encourage young APWA members who have demonstrated an initial commitment to the profession and the Association and show potential for future growth within the Association. The award promotes the concept that length of career does not necessarily indicate leadership abilities or potential for service. Candidates must be active members of APWA for five consecutive years and not exceed 35 years of age as of the award deadline.

Davies, Director of Business Development at BHC Consultants, has been actively involved in APWA for six years and is currently Co-chair of the Programs Committee and Co-chair for the annual APWA/AGC Golf Tournament that raised money for both association's scholarship funds.

As Director of Business Development at BHC Consultants, Davies' responsibilities include raising the overall visibility of the firm, expanding BHC's presence in their current markets, developing relationships in new markets, and leading strategic client and project pursuits. BHC Consultants, LLC (BHC) is a locally owned and managed professional municipal services consulting firm serving the public sector. BHC currently employs 35 engineers, planners, and support personnel specializing in civil engineering and community and regional planning.
